The News.

The news this evening is not of startling import. The fall of Wilmington was announced on yesterday, and as that was the last foothold of the rebels on the seaboard this side of Texas, there is nothing more to do in that line—if there had been no doubt our gallant army and navy would have accomplished it. Charleston, Branchville, Columbia and South Carolina generally, together with Forts Fisher and Anderson, and the fall of Wilmington will do to think of for a while.

The rebels have been defeated in Texas by the Indians.

The rebel papers everywhere are gloomy and despondent over the general aspect of affairs, except the evacuation of Charleston whereat they make themselves merry. It is probable they will celebrate the fall of Wilmington by the ringing of bells and firing of cannon.

The Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery was passed in the Assembly yesterday by a vote of 72 to 16. Six democrats voted for it. There were twelve members absent.

Table of Distances.

The following table of distances on the railroad lines in South Carolina will be read with a good deal of interest at the present time:

BY THE SOUTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

	Miles.
Charleston to Branchville	93
Charleston to Augusta	136

BY THE BRANCHVILLE AND COLUMBIA BRANCH.

Branchville to Kingsville	43
Branchville to Columbia	69

BY THE NORTHERN RAILROAD.

Charleston to Florence	102
Florence to Chesaw	40

BY THE WILMINGTON AND MANCHESTER RAILROAD.

Wilmington to Florence	106
Wilmington to Kingsville	170

Total distance from Charleston to Columbia, via Branchville, 130 miles; from Charleston to Wilmington, N. C., via Florence, 200 miles; from Wilmington to Columbia, via Kingsville, 195 miles.

COLUMBIA.—Columbia, the capital of South Carolina, is a pleasant city of 12,000 or 15,000 inhabitants. It lies on the east bank of the Congaree river, just below the confluence of the Saluda and Broad rivers, one hundred and twenty-four miles northwest from Charleston. The place is situated on a broad plain, is regularly laid out, with wide streets, bordered with ornamental trees, and contains many elegant residences. Among the public buildings are the State government buildings, South Carolina College, the State Insane Asylum, &c. Columbia is the head of steam navigation and has direct railroad connection with Charleston, Wilmington and Richmond. It is the terminus of railway branches from Yorkville, Laurens, Spartanburg, Anderson and other points in the northwestern part of the State, and its capture by the Federal forces, from its central position, will give Gen. Sherman the control of the entire State.

IT SEEMS the capture of Fort Anderson, below Wilmington, was in a great degree, the result of a smart ruse by Lieut. Cushing. He constructed a mock monitor so closely resembling one of those vessels that no difference could be detected at a distance of 100 yards. On Saturday night, the 18th, about 10 o'clock, this vessel was taken within about 400 yards of Fort Anderson and sent adrift. As there was a strong flood tide, she moved up the river and passed the fort as if under slow steam. At this time the army had worked about two-thirds of the distance around and in rear of the fort. The rebels, no doubt thinking their communication would be cut off both by land and water, hastily escaped by the only avenue open to them, leaving their guns unspiked and their magazine uninjured.

THE JUDICIAL ELECTION IN THE FIRST CIRCUIT.—We have published the call upon Judge Noggle, signed by many prominent citizens of this circuit, asking him to become a candidate for re-election. The Whitewater Register, Kenosha Telegraph, Darien Republican Brodhead Independent and Racine Advocate have announced their intention to support him. There is also a call in circulation appointing the 17th of March as the time, and Elkhorn the place, where a Judicial Convention is to be held for the purpose of nominating a candidate.

The Elkhorn Independent is in favor of holding a convention.

TWO HUNDRED and seventy-five persons have been run over and killed while walking or lying upon the railroad tracks in Illinois during the last ten years. The largest number in one year was 38 (1862), and the smallest 22 (in 1861.) With those facts published from year to year, it is extraordinary that people will persist in the dangerous practice of using the railroad tracks instead of the highway.

ADVICES from Columbus, Ohio, represent recruiting to be very active. Companies are reporting faster than they can be mustered in. It is expected that Ohio will put more regiments into the field than were authorized by the Secretary of War.

GOV. VANCE, of N. C., has issued a war proclamation, in which he says "the struggle for freedom" shall never be given up, and that all the disasters the South is suffering are caused by the soldiers being absent without leave.

Loss of Life by the Terrible Cyclone in India.

Later advices reveal the full extent of the disaster inflicted by the terrible cyclone in India. A Calcutta letter to the London Times, just received, says:

I see that the news of 12,000 persons having been lost in the cyclone was received with incredulity in England. The estimate was wide of the truth, but only because it vastly underrated the calamity. As every one who knows this country will readily conceive, there is no possibility of ascertaining precisely the loss of life, because hundreds might be swept away and leave no trace behind.

But we are not without data for arriving at a conclusion, and it has now been calculated that there cannot be fewer than 90,000 persons drowned or otherwise killed by that fearful storm. In the Island of Saugor alone, before the cyclone, there were 8,200 persons. There are now about 1,200—nor have any left to go elsewhere. Seven thousand were carried away by the storm wave.

All up the river the population has been swept off, if not in the same proportion, yet in very large numbers. As we all anticipated, disease is raging everywhere—cholera, fever and small pox. The epidemic fever, which I have mentioned in previous letters, this year is depopulating whole districts. A magistrate told me the other day that he had been riding through a village in which there is hardly a grown up person left. They had died without hope of assistance, without medicine, without food, for the crops are rotting on the ground in many parts, where the salt water rushed in. The Bengalese are in a deplorable plight, and the Zemindars increase the general misery by turning the Ryetts out of their huts because they are behindhand with their rents. There is money enough here to give relief—such relief as can be got for money.

But human means seem quite powerless to stop the awful diseases that are walking thro' the land carrying thousands before them. The native feels himself ill, wraps himself in his blanket, says it is fate, and so perishes. In this enormous population—let it be remembered that here in Bengal alone we have at least 45,000,000 of people—the few Europeans can only do good here and there, and yet it is solely by Europeans that good is being done. The rich native will not help his countrymen. God gave him his money, and God intended him to keep it. That is pretty much his mode of reasoning. Sometimes the fever strikes him, and then in abject terror he offers English doctors a fee of 500 rupees to come and visit him. In a recent case of that sort, the man—who was worth about four millions sterling—had refused to give a piece to the poor after the cyclone. When death was at his throat he altered his mind, and promised large benefactions if he recovered. He was not spared to add falsehood to his cruel service.

A Scene in Libby Prison.

[From A. D. Richardson's account of his Imprisonment.]

I will give but one of the many incidents in our Libby experience. It was a hot summer day, and we were all depressed, when the news came that Grant had been terribly whipped and driven back in confusion from Vicksburg; and that a great battle had occurred at some obscure place in Pennsylvania, called Gettysburg, where Meade had received a Waterloo defeat, and Lee had captured forty thousand prisoners. The rebel papers indulged in a good many speculations as to where their authorities could guard these prisoners, and how they could feed them without starving the people of Richmond. That was a sad, silent night in Libby; and even the usual evening prayer-meeting was clouded with despondency and doubt.

There was one negro among the score or two in the prison, who had excited my curiosity, because, in conversation with me, he declared that he felt no interest in the national conflict; that it was a speculators' war on both sides, from which no good could ever result. He was the first African I had ever seen who professed to be indifferent on the subject. But the next day after we received this gloomy intelligence he came rushing up into our room and immediately began to dance a hornpipe, performing the most remarkable gymnastics. We all clustered around him, asking: "What is the matter?"

"De Yankees have taken Vicksburg with forty thousand prisoners," he shouted as soon as he could gain breath. "Here is de news!" And he pulled from his pocket a newspaper extra, just from the press, which he had purloined from one of the rebel officers.

Then swiftly followed the glad tidings that we had also conquered at Gettysburg; that Lee, and not Meade, was in full retreat. How suddenly the very atmosphere seemed to change! There was singing and dancing, and somebody shouted "Glory, hallelujah!" Upon this hint, Rev. Dr. McCabe, of Ohio, in his clear, ringing tones, started Mrs. Howe's impressive hymn:

"For mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;"

and every voice in the room joined in the chorus. I never saw any body of men more stirred and thrilled than all were as they heard the closing stanza:

"In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me:
As he died to make men holy, let us die to make men free."

HOW NAPOLEON TREATED THOSE WHO CHEATED THE SOLDIERS.—Just before the battle of Wagram, Napolean paid a visit of inspection to the camps, and passing by a party of soldiers at their dinner, said to them: "Gentlemen, I hope you enjoy your wine." "There is our cellar," said a rough old brave, pointing to the Danube. The Emperor was greatly astonished, inasmuch as he had just ordered 250,000 bottles of wine for the use of the army, and caused one of his Marshals to institute an inquiry. The result was the discovery that the Commissaries had appropriated the wine to their own use; whereupon they were immediately court martialed, and sentenced to be shot. Wouldn't the adoption of a similar course towards thieves in our own army be productive of good?

DAVID H. COLE is now teaching school in South Brighton, Mass., the seventy-eighth term. He has taught in two States, four counties, thirteen towns and thirty-one districts. He is the father of eleven children, ten of whom—five daughters and five sons—are now living. Three of his sons are now in the army. Of his twenty-nine grandchildren, twenty-three are living.

REBEL REPORTS FR'M TEXAS

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

Washington, Feb. 24.—To Major Gen. Dix:—The following official report of the capture of Wilmington has been forwarded to this Department by Gen. Grant:

E. M. STANTON, Sec'y of War.

Fortress Monroe, Feb. 24—10 p. m.—Gen. U. S. Grant, City Point:—Our troops entered Wilmington on the morning of the 22d. After the evacuation of Fort Anderson, Gen. Schofield directed Gen. Cox to follow its garrison towards Wilmington, while General Terry followed Hoke on the east side of the river. The latter took up a new line four miles from Wilmington, but was so hotly pursued by Terry that he could send no troops to the west side.

On that side the rebels made a stand behind Owl Creek, but on the 20th Gen. Cox crossed his troops below them on flatboats, attacked them in the rear, and routed them, taking two guns and 300 prisoners.

On the 21st inst., Gen. Cox pushed to Brunswick River, opposite Wilmington, where bridges were on fire. On his arrival the rebels began burning cotton and resin in the city, and left it that night. Our captures, including Ft. Anderson, amount to about 700 prisoners and 30 guns.

Citizens stated that the rebels burned 1,000 bales of cotton, and 15,000 barrels of resin.

The Union feeling showed itself quite strongly in the city.

Gen. Terry has followed Hoke northward.

C. B. COMSTOCK.
Lt.-Col., A. D. C., and Brevet Brig. Gen.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The following has just been received at the Navy Department:

Fortress Monroe, Feb. 24.—To the Hon. Gideon Welles.—The Cuyler has just arrived from Cape Fear, and reports our forces having taken possession of Wilmington on the morning of the 22d—Washington's birthday. The rebels retreated leaving a large number of prisoners in our hands.

STEPHEN D. TRENCHARD,
Commander.

Baltimore, Feb. 25.—Despatches from Fort Monroe, dated this morning, just received, says that the U. S. gunboat R. R. Cuyler has arrived from Fort Fisher with the news of the evacuation of Wilmington on the night of the 21st, Major Gen. Terry entered and took possession of the city at 9 a. m. of the 22d, capturing a large amount os stores of all kinds, which the rebels in their haste neglected to destroy.

FROM GRANT'S ARMY.

New York, Feb. 25.—The Herald's Army of the Potomac correspondent says unusual activity has been observed in the rebel lines around Richmond during the past few days, indicating designs of some new enterprise on the part of Lee, and it is surmised that, alarmed by the progress of Sherman's and the other national forces, he has concluded that the time for giving up both Richmond and Petersburg and falling back to Lynchburg or some other defensible position, has at last arrived. Gen. A. P. Hill's corps of his army is said to have been under orders on Thursday of this week, to be prepared to march at a moment's notice and considerable commotion within the rebel lines was displayed yesterday. There are also rumors that Lee meditates an attack on Grant. All these matters taken in connection with the fact that the rebel journals have received orders from the authorities to be particularly reticent regarding military affairs, gives color to the belief that something more than ordinary is in progress of execution within their lines. The influx of rebel deserters, however, remains uninterrupted.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Washington's birthday was celebrated with great spirit throughout the Potomac and James armies. As a part of the festivities, the rebels in front of Petersburg were treated to a vigorous shelling early in the morning.

The exchange of prisoners is still being pushed forward rapidly and uninterruptedly on James river.

New York, Feb. 25.—The Herald's Washington special says a dispatch received here to-night from Gen. Grant's headquarters states that extraordinary activity is displayed along the rebel lines near Petersburg to-day. Extensive changes of location of divisions have been made and in some parts of the line the pickets have been doubled and other indications of some important movements are given. It is the opinion of veteran officers at the front that they are about to evacuate Petersburg and fall back across the Appomattox.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The force from Sheridan's army sent in pursuit of the rebel cavalry, who, last Tuesday, dashed into Cumberland, Maryland, and captured Union Generals Crook and Kelly, returned to Winchester Thursday evening, having been unsuccessful in rescuing those officers.

FROM THE SOUTH.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The Richmond Sentinel of the 22d has the following: Our readers will cheerfully forego being apprised of pending military movements in the Carolinas, when they are informed that our reticence is in compliance with wishes which have been communicated to all newspapers.

The enemy commenced a furious shelling in front of Petersburg on Monday, caused by the appearance of a Confederate working party. Some of the shells exploded in the city of Petersburg, and a number fell in Blandford. Grant is extending the railroad to his new lines.

The Express says that the enemy is throwing up works on the Brunswick stage road between Roam's station and Monks creek bridge, two miles below the latter place.

A gentleman, now a resident of this city, formerly of Kentucky, proposes to put all his able bodied slaves at the disposal of Gen. Lee. He thus gives unmistakable evidences of his patriotism, but only so but he intends to comfortably equip each man and furnish him liberally with money to secure comforts in camp. Here is an example worthy of imitation—who will follow.

Among the lately returned prisoners were five negroes who resisted all solicitations to join the enemy or take the oath.

The Charleston Courier of the 16th, says nothing of importance has occurred since the last report. The force at Bull's Bay at last accounts had not yet landed, and it was said, had mostly disappeared.

The following is from the Richmond Examiner:

In the absence of official information, we obtain from other reports less reliable, the following of the military situation in South Carolina: We have confirmation of the report of an expedition of the enemy from Knoxville in the direction of Greenville, but there are various surmises as to its result. A letter from Wytheville dated the 15th says: The enemy 4,500 strong, under Gillem, are reported to be advancing through upper East Tennessee. Their outposts were taken prisoners and brought in by our scouts who state that it is the intention of the enemy to occupy the whole State if possible. Same writer adds Gilmore's brigade of Kentucky cavalry had an engagement last Saturday at Balls Bridge, Lee county, Va., 27 miles north of Cumberland Gap, resulting in a splendid victory to our arms. Our losses not over 60 killed and wounded.

New York, Feb. 25.—The bill to arm the negroes which the rebel House of Representatives passed on the 20th inst., was indefinitely postponed by the Senate on the following day.

Rebel journals give some Texas items of interest including accounts of the defeat of a rebel force on the South Concha river in that State in January, by the Indians. The fight is said to have been a most desperate one. The Indians are giving the rebels there much trouble. The Austin Gazette is suspicious that these operations are forerunners of a grand advance of the Union troops on Northern Texas in the spring, by way of Red river.

The works found at Galveston are being improved and enlarged.

It was said that the Mexican town of Matamoras has ceased to be a free port.

A Union force reported by the rebel papers as having gone from Knoxville, Tennessee, towards North Carolina, is now said by them to consist of between 4,000 and 5,000 men under Gen. Gillem.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Gold has stood steady at about 2.00, our military successes apparently not having any effect upon the price. The fall of Wilmington announced to-day had no appreciable effect. The time appears to have gone by, when victories will effect this market.

New York, Feb. 25.—As the rebel papers have received an official notification to suppress military news, we are with many later intelligence regarding Gen. Sherman's progress in South Carolina. The Richmond papers cannot conceal their mortification over the capture of Charleston and Columbia, the occupation of the latter by Gen. Sherman they acknowledge to have been very unexpected at Richmond, and serious apprehensions are expressed in reference to the ability of Beauregard to make any effective opposition to the northward advance of the National forces.

New York, Feb. 24.—John G. Beall, the pirate, was executed to-day on Governor's Island.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—The sales of 7 30's to day by Jay Cooke, was 3,168,450. The largest single subscription was $25,000 from Philadelphia.

FROM WASHINGTON.

New York, Feb. 24.—The Commercial's special says military men regard the capture of Wilmington as a first class military triumph. It insures the success of the plans against Richmond. Sherman has now a new base and can move forward without waiting or turning back for supplies.

The Senate Finance Committee will restore the drawback on petroleum, and reduce the tax to two cents per gallon.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The Times' special say Brigadier General Hays arrived in Washington from Richmond, on parole, and will soon be exchanged.

The World's special says Mr. McCulloch's name has been sent to the Senate for Secretary of the Treasury, and Freeman Clarke, Member of Congress from Rochester, will be comptroller of the currency.

THE WAR IN TENNESSEE.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—The Bulletins special Cincinnati dispatch says advices from below indicate grand preparations for a three fold movement to Alabama and Mississippi. Thomas from the north with a strong force of infantry from Vicksburg via Jackson, and Canby from Pensacola. It is apprehended that if Lee is compelled to relinquish Richmond he will fall back on Lynchburg and thence make his way through the mountains to East Tennessee and Kentucky. Efforts are making to repair the Virginia and Tennessee railroad to Bristol. It was rumored in Knoxville last week that a division of Lee's army has already appeared in East Tennessee. The expedition now moving from Knoxville is to defeat this movement and by again destroying the railroad render the transfer of Lee's army west of the mountains impossible.

FROM THE GULF.

New York, Feb. 24.—The Herald's New Orleans correspondent says on the night of the 6th two boats crews from the United States steamers Princess Royal and Kensville under acting ensign Gee, H. French, boarded, captured, and ran to the blockading fleet from under the guns of the rebel forts in Galveston harbor, the blockade running schooners Jet and Minnie Sophie laden with about 250 bales of cotton each.

On the night of the 3d the somewhat noted blockade running steamer Will O' the Whisp while attempting to get into Galveston went ashore and was rendered useless by the guns of the shipbreakers.

The steamer Bren attempted to run the blockade outward on the night of the 6th but was driven back by the union guns.

FROM CAIRO AND BELOW.

CAIRO, Feb. 24.—A scouting party under Capt. Newell of the 8th New Hampshire, which left Vidalia in the early part of this month to patrol along Black river, returned in a terrible state of dilapidation, having subsisted on horse and mule meat alone, in swamps.

Brig. Gen. Meredith has been relieved of the command of West Kentucky. His successor is not announced.

Col. McArthur, late commander of the Post at Columbus, Kentucky, and Capt. Moss, Provost Marshal, arrested by Gen. Meredith, have been relieved, fully exhonorated, and returned to Columbus.

The trial of Gen. Payne is progressing. Thus far, not a single charge against him has been sustained.

FROM MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Feb. 24.—The execution of W. J. Harris, which was ordered to take place to-day, was postponed by an order issued by Col. Baker Provost Marshal General. The gallows had been placed in good hanging trim, the rope was prepared and an invitation extended to the members of the press by Lt. Colonel Heinbricke for admission into Gratiot street prison yard at 10 a. m. At a quarter to ten the order postponing the execution was issued. Harris is a citizen of Audrain county, and was convicted of being a guerrilla and robber.

Gen. Pope returned to the city last night.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, Feb. 6.—It is not a little gratifying to those who like to see fair play to know that the draft is not likely to skip the crowds who have come here from various quarters for the express purpose of escaping it. Gen. Hurlbut has determined that these persons shall not thus elude the obligations of citizenship, and his order requiring all to report for enrollment is being rapidly enforced.

FROM DETROIT.

DETROIT, Feb. 24.—The Board of Trade celebration here last evening, was a great success. Nearly all the principal cities in the north were represented. Addresses were delivered by Right Rev. Bishop McClarkey and the representatives of the delegations present, including Chicago, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Buffalo, Albany, Toronto and London.

SOMEWHERE in the outskirts of Hartford there is a Mission School that has the reputation of being rather noisy. Last Sunday, the school being destitute of a superintendent, a prominent manufacturer, of the city, volunteered for the day. Having called the school to order and got most of them seated, "Boys," said he, mounting the platform, "let's see if we can't have it still," and he put himself into quiet posture for the boys to imitate as there was yet some noise. "I," said he we can't hear a pin drop." All was silence. Then a little fellow in the back part of the room, cocking his ear and placing himself in an attitude of breathless attention, spoke out "Let her drop!" The storekeepers of the superintendent are said to have slightly relaxed.

by his new method, and with remedies that are eminently successful in the cure of these chronic diseases.

The thinking and intelligent portion of the community in all parts of the country have availed themselves of the advantages of a permanent and reliable Institute for the cure of chronic diseases that have baffled the skill of the general practitioner.

Dr. Hale has been engaged for years in perfecting and introducing his new remedies. In fact he has never treated a case of this disease he could not cure. The proof is such as cannot be controverted by opinion, prejudice or disingenuous. Your case can be cured this month or next, or not at all.

All who are suffering from any of the diseases Dr. Hale makes a specialty of treating, should at least call and investigate the new system for themselves. A person of good sense and sound judgment will, without fail and careful investigation, denounce as "humbug" that which claims to possess merit.

Dr. Hale takes pleasure in referring to the following responsible parties, citizens of Janesville, who can speak knowingly as to the efficacy of Dr. Hale's treatment, and to mention hundreds of others in the Northwest that have been cured:

N. Schuyler, proprietor of the Schuyler House; Dewitt Davis, N. G. Remington, D. R. Stout, F. J. Tupper, Ellis Doty, job printer, W. H. Mann, E. Beckley, N. Rowe, John Kerr, J. F. Drake, Wm. Lyzer, Mrs. W. W. Wheeler, Mrs. C. J. Cheney, Miss Belle Shattuck, Miss N. Wiley.

The list could be extended to an indefinite length, but the above will suffice.

The Constitutional Amendment---The Debate in the Assembly.

Editorial Correspondence.

MADISON, Feb. 24, 1865.

Knowing that the Constitutional Amendment, abolishing slavery throughout the territory of the United States, had been made the special order for yesterday at eleven o'clock, and feeling that the day must become historic in the annals of Wisconsin, I came out here to listen to the discussion upon that interesting and momentous subject. There was considerable anxiety manifested on the part of certain hard shell democrats, commonly called copperheads, as to the reported action of some of their political associates. It was more than hinted that Messrs. Hadley, Abrams, Williams, Thompson, Bonniwell and others, would cave in and vote for the passage of the Amendment with the Republicans, and it was amusing to see the old stagers of the party going about the Assembly Chamber laboring assiduously to dissuade their straying brethren from such inconsistency. But it was labor lost as those gentlemen are among the most intelligent and independent members of their party upon the floor of the House. I know nothing of the arguments, or importunities, or threats that were made use of to induce these gentlemen to record themselves upon the roll of infamy, but any one can easily imagine what they were. Their love for the dead carcass of slavery exceeded their admiration for the arisen and glorified body of Liberty, from the door of whose sepulcher the stone has just been rolled away forever!

After the morning hour had elapsed, the Speaker announced the special order to be the question of ratifying the constitutional amendment of the United States forever prohibiting slavery in all the States and territories. There was a pause of some moments; the low hum of subdued conversation ceased, and all was expectation and anxiety. At length Mr. Horton of La Crosse, opened the discussion in favor of the ratification of the amendment. He spoke briefly and well as did Reed of Door, and the venerable Starks of Sauk, who followed Horton upon the same side. Then came the shrill, sharp cry of "Mr. Speaker," from the remote part of the chamber, down the main aisle, and all turned to catch a glimpse of Jackson Hadley whose head has grown white in the service of the democratic party. He has a concise, well-written, logical speech of half an hour in favor of the Amendment! and he a representative of a city that gave the largest majority for McClellan of any city in the Union according to its population! Will wonders ever cease? The red face of the reporter of the Milwaukee News grows redder yet, and the "irrepressible" and irascible Jones, the correspondent of the Chicago Times, nervously twitches at his mustach as if he intended to pull that carrot-colored appendage all out by the roots. The Union members looked pleased, and as Hadley proceeds with his argument they indulge in the unparliamentary habit of cheering the good points of the speech by industriously clapping their hands, in which Mr Speaker Field himself occasionally joins.

After Hadley follows Tilton, of Walworth, a Methodist Clergyman of good abilities, who goes on to make an hour's speech affirmatively from a theological stand point. Slavery, he said, was a giant crime against God and man and ought to be abolished. This proposition he enforced in an ingenious and philosophical manner. It was one of the best speeches made.

In the afternoon Mr. Fulton, (Union) of St. Croix, made a keen speech in which he thrust his glittering cimetar into the copperhead fraternity, drawing blood every time. Next follows Ross, of Madison, a war democrat, in a neat and pertinent speech also in favor of the ratification. So far all on one side. Is there to be no opposition, asks everybody? Is the copperhead faction to die and make no sign? Ah, yes, here arises Dr. Pease, of Marquette, Editor of the Express, a supporter of Lincoln in 1860, but who was converted to the peace doctrines of Horatio Seymour! He was opposed to ratifying the Amendment and went at his work with the ardor of a young convert. He was cheered occasionally by a little knot of sympathisers, as boys whistle to keep up their courage while passing a graveyard. His argument was this: Congress had no right to pass such an amendment; slavery must be abolished by the States in which it exists, if at all, and it is of no use to pass upon this question because the measure will be finally defeated for want of a three-fourths vote. His speech was exactly adapted to the meridian of Richmond and ought to have been delivered there.

George C. Williams, of Washington county, next obtained the floor. His district is so nearly unanimously democratic that no Union man was run against him at the last election. He fought at the battle of Pittsburg Landing, and has had his wits sharpened by the whiz of rebel bullets. He followed Pease in one of the best speeches made upon the occasion, and in a few brief sentences sent the rickety cob house of an argument that the Doctor had reared, rattling about his ears. His speech was highly complimented by all who heard it.

After Mr. Ross had taken a lively and somewhat humorous clatter at the "gentleman from Marquette," (Dr. Pease) in which he repeatedly brought down the house as he exposed that gentleman's political inconsistencies, the House took a recess until after tea, when the debate was again opened by Mr. Jared Thompson, (Dem.) of Milwaukee, who also spoke in the affirmative.

But the main speech of the occasion was delivered by Mr. Cassoday in favor of the amendment. It was listened to attentively throughout and warmly applauded. Everybody agrees that he led the column.

Speeches were made by Winsor and others who consumed the time up to ten o'clock when the House adjourned.

This morning Mr. Jones set in on a two hours speech against the amendment, and had bored the House with a very small gimblet for about an hour when he gave way, while Chief Clerk Dean read the official dispatch from the Secretary of War, announcing the fall of Wilmington. The applause that followed this gratifying intelligence shook the Capitol from turret to foundation stone. It happened most inopportunely for little Jones. He had just been saying, and called God to witness, that he did not believe the Republican Union party was carrying on this war for the purpose of restoring the Union. The reading of the dispatch at this juncture made his gasconade look so absurd and foolish to every body that I think it must have knocked him out of about an hour's talk, much to the gratification of the members.

The vote will probably be taken this afternoon, but I must close this hasty sketch in order to get it in the mail. I have just been shown by a prominent democrat, the list of his party who have agreed to vote for it—nine in number, including the most intelligent of the party upon this floor.

GUBERNATORIAL.

I am informed by a gentleman who knows, that Governor Lewis peremptorily declines to be a candidate for re-election. Under such circumstances there is naturally some talk as to who shall be his successor. General Fairchild is talked of, as is Mr. Speaker Field and Hon. John F. Potter, and one or two others. I hope the matter may be allowed to rest until the proper time arrives and then give the people a chance to have their say on the subject. The members of the present Legislature have succeeded in foisting a candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court upon the people, which ought to satisfy them without attempting to make a Governor.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Railroad affairs, as far as the disposition of the land grant is concerned, is in a somewhat mixed condition, although from what little I have been able to learn, the Northwestern Railroad, the Madison interest and the Portage City people have united to make Portage the initial point. Fond du Lac and Milwaukee are busily at work to frustrate these designs, but they must play their cards with some adroitness in order to succeed. A. M. T.

The Planet We Live On.

The "farm of the Earth," inclosed in a ringfence of air, turns out to be a much more valuable piece of real estate than our progenitors supposed it to be. Nay, even our papas had no idea twenty years ago that we, their sons, were born to such a goodly inheritance. We don't know what was the estimated value of the globe sixteen or seventeen years ago, but it has certainly appreciated several hundred per cent. within that time. California began to feast our eyes with its riches in 1849, and Australia soon followed suit with its golden dowry. From that time until now Madame Terra has been indeed a Lady Bountiful, and what further she may have in store for her enterprising family it is vain to attempt to guess. We have nothing to guide us in our surmises save the "lamp of experience," and that for several years past has been such an out and out lamp of Aladdin that, if we are to judge of the future by the past, the next generation will enjoy all the luxury and magnificence attributed by Eenelous to the fabulous land of Cocaigne.

We must give up calling wealthy people the "upper crust;" it is the lower crust fellows that are making fortunes. Our respected ancestors merely cultivated the surfaces of the earth; we gather our golden harvests from the interior. The mole must henceforth be our "totem." The road to riches is a "bore." Instead of putting our shoulders to the wheel we rely upon the "shafts." Facilis descensus averni must be expunged from our proverbial philosophy, and we must say instead "it is easy descending into wealth." Poor men in Pennsylvania make deep holes in the earth, and, like the genie of an Eastern story, surrounded by a cloud of inflammable vapor, up comes an oleaginous Plutus through every orifice. It is very nice. Would that our lot had been cast in greasy Carbondale or kerosenic Scrapton.

We have exported twenty-three millions of gallons of petroleum to Europe within a year. "Think of that, Master Brook!" Verily we are a burning and a shining light among the nations. Widows of the world, bring hither your cruses; we can fill them. Virgins who wish to keep your lamps trimmed and ignited, we can supply you with the necessary combustible. The dark ages can never more return; oil is too plentiful for that. Leviathan, hide thy diminished head; its contents are of small consequence. The earth takes the shine out of the sea, and "parmacoti" is no longer the "sovereign'st thing in the world." Weep, Nantucket, and lay up thy ships in ordinary. Turn thy harpoons into picks and augurs, and proceed to perforate. Perchance under those barren rocks of thine lies more oil than there is in the whales of the sea. Let your shibboleth be "There she spouts!" but let it be spoken of the greasy earth, not of the monsters of the deep.

The latest news is that "signs" of petroleum have been discovered at Hoboken and all along the Highlands to Piermont. "Prodigious!" We think of "sinking a well" in our "sub-cellar." It smells very strong of carburetted hydrogen. It may proceed from a leak in the gas-pipe, but then again it may not.

Seriously speaking, this sudden access of material wealth comes in the very nick of time, if we may use the word Nick in connection with such a godsend.

It is all nonsense to call this planet the solid earth; it is simply an immense hollow sphere filled with oil, worth—unmanufactured, fifty cents a gallon. In the old world they can't get it, however, the crust of the earth being thickest on that side. We are all made men—not a doubt of it. Let us keep "pegging away" at the deposit. Let us dig and enjoy our oleum cum dignitatis.—N. Y. Sunday Times.

GENERAL Alexander Schemmelfinning is the officer who first entered Charleston. The name is against the hero. People will find it difficult to repeat it very often. But he is said to be an excellent officer, a Prussian by birth and education—a thorough military man, who entered the United States service as Colonel of a Pennsylvania regiment at the breaking out of the war, and was commissioned as a Brigadier-General in 1862, for gallantry. He commands a brigade in what is now known as Foster's army, which has been operating below Charleston for some months past.

MR. COFFIN, correspondent of the Boston Journal, gives an account of a remarkable meeting of freedmen, held at Savannah on the 2d inst. It was called by Gen. Saxton to explain to them Gen. Sherman's late order giving them the abandoned plantations. The large Second African Church was crowded to overflowing. After preliminary religious exercises, Gen. Saxton told his hearers that they were free, and that the President had been the instrument of this great change in their condition. The allusion to Mr. Lincoln produced a sensation. There were cries, "God bless him." "You are all free." "Amen," they said; "bless the Lord." He explained the cause of the war—how the rebels fired upon the flag—how they hated freedom, and wanted to extend slavery, which produced the war, and which, in the providence of God, had made them free. They were free, but they must labor to live. Their relations to their masters had all been changed. They could go where they pleased, do what they pleased, provided they did right; but they had no claim on their masters; they must work for themselves. Gen. Sherman's order was read and explained. Rev. Mr. French of Port Royal was the next speaker. The young men were exhorted to enlist and the old men to work. [Cries of "Yes, sir, dat is what we will do; we'se gwine."] The negroes were next told that they must have one wife, instead of two or three, as they had done, at which the audience burst out into roars of laughter. On being admonished to treat their former masters with kindness and respect, a colored man, unable longer to restrain his admiration for General Saxton, went forward, clasped the General's hand, kneeled down and said: "God bless you, master General Saxton," creating quite a commotion in the audience. The meeting closed with the singing of "Old Hundred" by the vast assembly.

"Persons unacquainted with the Melodeon and its history, will bear in mind that we are the pioneers and leading manufacturers, not only in the United States, but in the world. We commenced the manufacture of Melodeons in the fall of the year 1847, and since that time have finished and sold

THIRTY THOUSAND!

These instruments are now in use mostly in the United States and Canada, also in Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, and the West Indies, and from all these quarters we have the most flattering testimonials of the high estimation in which they are held. At all Industrial Exhibitions, they have invariably been wherever exhibiting in competition with others. We shall take pleasure in forwarding by mail (at our own expense) our Illustrated Catalogue, in which every instrument we manufacture, is fully described and illustrated by elegant engravings.

☞ All Melodeons of our manufacture, either sold by us or dealers in any part of the United States or Canada, are warranted to be perfect in every respect; and should any repairs be necessary before the expiration of five years from the date of sale, we hold ourselves ready and willing to make the same free of charge, provided the injury is not caused by accident or design.

☞ CAUTION.

We daily see advertisements of some new reed instrument, with a strange name, purporting to be superior to Melodeons and School Organs. A new exterior and a new name will naturally attract attention; but the public will bear in mind that all Reed Instruments, now manufactured in the United States and Canada, are, as near as they can be made without infringing our patents, copies of our own.

☞ Agents for the sale of our Melodeons can be found in all the principal towns of the United States and Canada. Address either

JANESVILLE DAILY GAZETTE.

CIVIL WORTH OF THE SABBATH.—1. Toil needs it—to wipe off the grim and sweat of labor; to refresh by change of apparel; to restore and invigorate the body, exhausted by labor; to enliven the mind by change of the current of thought, and by all this to fit laboring men for the renewed toils of the week.

2. Capital needs the Sabbath—to alleviate, by intermission, the care of accumulation; to ease the unbending of the strained and exhausted mind; to give a sense to the value of nobler objects than silver and gold; to keep men's humanity and conscientiousness alive; to shield capital from harm, by securing the power and triumph of law and order in society.

3. The State needs the Sabbath—to illumine the public conscience, that guardian of public safety; to cause men so to recognize the Eternal Lawgiver, as to honor the earthly "powers, that be;" to secure the moral atmosphere in a community, which is the only sure support of law.

4. The Republic needs the Sabbath, because in a Republic more depends than in any other form of government, upon the intelligence and virtue of the people for its support. The grand superstructure of human rights needs just such a foundation as the Sabbath furnishes by its moral and religious influences over men. Human freedom has no friend more powerful than the sanctified Sabbath.—Selected.

Rise in the River.—The recent heavy rains are having their effect on Rock river, making the water perceptibly higher. The ice is already pretty well cleared out.

We were in error in stating that no one lived in the house of Mrs. John Baily, at the time it took fire on Wednesday evening. She informs us that she resided there herself, and the fire caught from a flue in the chimney.

Concert of Mr. Bennett's Singing Class.—Preparations are going forward energetically for a grand concert by Mr. Bennett's singing class, to come off on Wednesday evening, March 8th. As the best musical talent of the city is to take part in the entertainment it will be an A No. 1 affair.

At a meeting of the Finance Committee of the First Ward, held on Monday evening, it was on motion ordered,

That the Treasurer be directed to return to all subscribers to the Ward Fund, the excess of their subscriptions over twenty-five dollars.

In accordance with the above, I will pay to all persons whose subscriptions exceed twenty-five dollars, such excess at my store from 7 to 9 p. m., Saturday Febarary 25th, 1865. G. F. Moseley, feb24d2d. Treasurer.

A Good Exhibit.—Mr. Ira Dexter, of Johnstown Center, furnishes us with the following statement of the products of two cows on his farm for the past year. One came in the first of April, the calf of which was fatted and sold for $4.50; the other the first of May, the calf of which was raised, but was fed milk. The family used what cream and milk they wanted, but the amount of butter made in 1864 was 533 pounds, which being sold at from 17c to 40c per pound produced the handsome sum of $180.99

Fatted Calf	4.50
Milk for hogs	20.00
Total	$205.49

The cows come in about the same time this year, and in the month of January twenty-eight pounds of butter were made, and on the 1st day of February they gave sixteen pounds of milk. We know the butter is excellent, having tried it. If any one can produce a better showing in the same time we should be glad to publish it.

A Case of Suicide.—Yesterday about noon a girl apparently about seventeen years of age, called at the Rock County House in this city, near the depot, and said she wanted to take the train in the evening for Prairie du Chien. Towards evening she complained of being sick and grew so much worse that a physician was called, but about midnight she died. An inquest was held this morning which disclosed the fact that she died by poison administered by her own hand. It appeared that she had been in this city about six months, had been leading a life of sin, and in a fit of desperation procured arsenic of one of our druggists and took this opportunity to commit the rash act. She came from McGregor, Iowa, and gave her name yesterday as Ellsworth, but one of the witnesses testified that she went by the name of Frank Gunn. No clue could be obtained as to her relatives or former home, except that she stated she had a brother in Prairie du Chien.

The verdict of the jury of inquest was in accordance with the above facts.

An Incident Worth Thinking of.—The eminent gentleman and patriot—Edward Everett—whose life recently terminated so suddenly, has left a record so pure and shining, that many of the little incidents of his life even, contain lessons that are worth pondering. We give one below which the instructors of youth will do well to remember, not forgetting that the power of example is more mighty than volumes of precept:

A gentleman lately told a lady that when Mr. Everett was sixteen years old he taught a district school in East Bridgewater, Mass. That he being a little boy went to school, and one day took with him a toy pistol. He playing with it, the master took it from him and he heard no more about it until the last day, when Mr. Everett said, Robert, (the boy's name) I took from you a little pistol and I cannot find it, but I have bought you a penknife, which I hope will compensate you. This lesson of justice made so strange an impression on Robert's mind that it has served as a text for his manhood.

Second Ward Meeting.—Let it be borne in mind by the enrolled men of the Second Ward, that there will be a meeting at the Court Room this evening to hear the report of the various committees, and to transact other important business. As the draft commences on Monday it would be well for the attendance to be as large as possible as the quota is not full.

In the Kentucky Legislature, on Wednesday, the Senate rejected the resolution ratifying the constitutional amendment. The vote to ratify unconditionally was, yeas, 17; nays, 22. The vote to ratify on condition that slaves be paid for was, yeas, 9; nays, 24. On the naked question of ratification the vote stood, yeas, 12; nays, 21.

The Legislature of West Virginia has adopted an amendment to the Constitution of that State, disfranchising all those who have voluntarily participated in the rebellion.

War Department,
Adjutant General's Office,
Washington, Feb'y 17th, 1865.

General Order No. 21—The following report of the Board appointed by the President of the United States, to examine and correct the quotas of the several States and Districts under the call for volunteers of December 19th, 1864, is published for the information of all concerned:

Washington, D. C., Feb'y 16th, 1865.

His Excellency, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.:

Sir—The Board convened by the following order:

Executive Mansion,
Washington City, Feb'y 6th, '65.

Whereas, Complaints are made in some localities respecting the assignment of quotas and credits allowed for the pending call of troops to fill up the armies, now, in order to determine all controversies in respect thereto, and to avoid any delay in filling up armies, it is ordered, That the Attorney General, Brigadier General Richard Delafield and Colonel C. W. Foster, be and they are hereby constituted a board to examine into the proper quotas and credits of the respective States and Districts, under the call of December 19th 1864, with directions that if any errors be found therein to make such corrections as the law and facts may require, and report their determination to the Provost Marshal General. The determination of said board to be final and conclusive and the draft to be made in conformity therewith.

2d. The Provost Marshal General is ordered to make the draft in the respective districts as speedily as the same can be done after the 15th of this month.

[Signed] ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

have respectfully to report as follows:

The call for 300,000 men made by the President on the 19th of December, 1864, requires that that number shall be raised, but the law requires that the number of men previously furnished by different localities and the periods of their service shall be considered so as to equalize the draft. The number of men liable to military duty is to be determined by the enrollment list. The number of men which had been furnished by the various localities, and their periods of service were ascertained and previous accounts having been adjusted, the excesses where they existed were carried forward under the last draft. The amount of service furnished is determined by multiplying the number of men raised by the number of years which they enlisted. Having thus ascertained the number of men enrolled on the 31st day of December, 1864, the number of men furnished up to that date, the localities from which they come and the period of their service, it is proposed to distribute the call for 300,000 men among the several districts and parts of districts according to the number enrolled in each, and the number of men furnished, and the periods of service previously rendered by each. The rule by which this is accomplished is as follows:

Take the whole number of years of service furnished by the districts of the United States from the commencement of the rebellion to the 31st of December, 1864. From that sum deduct the whole number of men furnished from all the districts of the United States up to that date. The remainder will be the excess of years of service furnished by all the districts. Multiply the call of December 19th, 1864, by three, to have the number of years of service upon that call and to this add the excess as ascertained above. Then as the number of men enrolled from the whole United States up to the 31st of December, 1864, is to the period of service as above ascertained, so is the number of men enrolled in a given district, to the number of years service it is required to furnish including its pro rata share of the excess. From this sum deduct the actual excess the district furnished the remainder is the number of years of service which the district is required to furnish under the call of December 19th, 1864, which divided by three, gives the number of men required from the district. As this call is for 300,000 men that number cannot be reduced by men going in for a period longer than one year. Inequalities produced by men going in under this call for longer periods than one year, must be equalized on future calls. It will be perceived that though the aggregate of the excess furnished, is added to the whole call, the excess of each district is afterwards substracted from its quota. Thus the number of men called for is neither increased nor diminished, but equity is produced, considering the number of men, and the periods of their service. Localities which have heretofore furnished a greater amount of service have in proportion to their enrollment a less amount to furnish under this and e converso. Men having heretofore enlisted for one, two and three years, it was necessary to take one of these periods as the basis of the calculation. As three years embraced both the other periods, it makes the calculation more simple to adopt that. The same result would be arrived at by adopting either one or two years as the basis but the process of calculation would be more complicated. Such we find to be the rule adopted by the Provost Marshal General. The rule is in conformity with the requirements of the laws of congress, and is just and equitable. We have carefully examined and proved the work done under this rule by the Provost Marshal General. The rule is in conformity with the requirements of the laws of congress and is just and equitable. We have carefully examined and proved the work done under this rule by the Provost Marshal General, and find that it has been done with fairness. We file in the Provost Marshal General's Office our calculations of the quota of each and every district endorsed by us as correct.

By order of the Secretary of War.
Official E. D. TOWNSEND,
Ass't Adjutant General.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
Washington, February 8th, 1865.

His Excellency Governor Smith:

Complaint is made to me, by Vermont, that the assignment of her quota for the draft on the pending call is intrinsically unjust, and also in bad faith of the Government's promise to fairly allow credit for men previously furnished. To illustrate, a supposed case is stated, as follows:

Vermont and New Hampshire must, between them, furnish 6,000 men on the pending call, and, being equals, each must furnish as many as the other in the long run. But the Government finds that, on former calls, Vermont furnished a surplus of 500 and New Hampshire a surplus of 1,500—these two surpluses making 2,000, are added to the 6,000, making 8,000 to be furnished by the two States, or 4,000 each, less by fair credits. Then subtract Vermont's surplus of 500 from her 4,000, leaves 3,500 as her quota on the pending call; and likewise subtract New Hampshire's surplus of 1,500 from her 4,000, leaves 2,500 as her quota on the pending call. These 3,500 and 2,500 make precisely the 6,000 which the supposed case requires from the two States; and it is just, equal, for Vermont to furnish 1,000 more now than New Hampshire, because, New Hampshire has heretofore furnished a 1,000 more than Vermont, which equalizes the burthens of the two in the long run. And this result, so far from being bad faith to Vermont, is indispensable to keeping good faith with New Hampshire. By no other result can the 6,000 men be obtained from the two States, and, at the same time, deal justly and keep faith with both; and we do but confuse ourselves in questioning the process by which the right result was reached.

The supposed case is perfect, as an illustration. The pending call is not for 300,000 men subject to fair credits, but is for 300,000 remaining after all fair credits have been deducted; and it is impossible to concede what Vermont asks without coming out short of the 300,000 men, or making other localities pay for the partiality shown her. Yours truly

On all sides we hear the merits of the Grover & Bakers Sewing-Machine extolled. The ladies declare it the "very best," and prove it to us in so many undeniable facts that we are bound to confess our conviction of the truth of the declaration. What other machine will embroider so beautifully, braid so elegantly, hem so faultlessly, quilt so evenly, stitch so accurately, gather so regularly, operate so easily? None, we conscientiously affirm.

GOTTSCHALK ON KNABE.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmoniously mellow, (chrystaline,) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers.

The News.

The news this evening is not of startling import. The fall of Wilmington was announced on yesterday, and as that was the last foothold of the rebels on the seaboard this side of Texas, there is nothing more to do in that line—if there had been no doubt our gallant army and navy would have accomplished it. Charleston, Branchville, Columbia and South Carolina generally, together with Forts Fisher and Anderson, and the fall of Wilmington will do to think of for a while.

The rebels have been defeated in Texas by the Indians.

The rebel papers everywhere are gloomy and despondent over the general aspect of affairs, except the evacuation of Charleston whereat they make themselves merry. It is probable they will celebrate the fall of Wilmington by the ringing of bells and firing of cannon.

The Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery was passed in the Assembly yesterday by a vote of 72 to 16. Six democrats voted for it. There were twelve members absent.

Table of Distances.

The following table of distances on the railroad lines in South Carolina will be read with a good deal of interest at the present time:

BY THE SOUTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

	Miles.
Charleston to Branchville	62
Charleston to Augusta	136

BY THE BRANCHVILLE AND COLUMBIA BRANCH.

Branchville to Kingsville	43
Branchville to Columbia	69

BY THE NORTHERN RAILROAD.

Charleston to Florence	102
Florence to Chesaw	40

BY THE WILMINGTON AND MANCHESTER RAILROAD.

Wilmington to Florence	105
Wilmington to Kingsville	170

Total distance from Charleston to Columbia, via Branchville, 130 miles; from Charleston to Wilmington, N. C., via Florence, 200 miles; from Wilmington to Columbia, via Kingsville, 195 miles.

COLUMBIA.—Columbia, the capital of South Carolina, is a pleasant city of 12,000 or 15,000 inhabitants. It lies on the east bank of the Congaree river, just below the confluence of the Saluda and Broad rivers, one hundred and twenty-four miles northwest from Charleston. The place is situated on a broad plain, is regularly laid out, with wide streets, bordered with ornamental trees, and contains many elegant residences. Among the public buildings are the State government buildings, South Carolina College, the State Insane Asylum, &c. Columbia is the head of steam navigation and has direct railroad connection with Charleston, Wilmington and Richmond. It is the terminus of railway branches from Yorkville, Laurens, Spartanburg, Anderson and other points in the northwestern part of the State, and its capture by the Federal forces, from its central position, will give Gen. Sherman the control of the entire State.

IT SEEMS the capture of Fort Anderson, below Wilmington, was in a great degree the result of a smart ruse by Lieut. Cushing. He constructed a mock monitor so closely resembling one of those vessels that no difference could be detected at a distance of 100 yards. On Saturday night, the 18th, about 10 o'clock, this vessel was taken within about 400 yards of Fort Anderson and sent adrift. As there was a strong flood tide, she moved up the river and passed the fort as if under slow steam. At this time the army had worked about two-thirds of the distance around and in rear of the fort. The rebels, no doubt thinking their communication would be cut off both by land and water, hastily escaped by the only avenue open to them, leaving their guns unspiked and their magazine uninjured.

THE JUDICIAL ELECTION IN THE FIRST CIRCUIT.—We have published the call upon Judge Noggle, signed by many prominent citizens of this circuit, asking him to become a candidate for re-election. The Whitewater Register, Kenosha Telegraph, Darien Republican Brodhead Independent and Racine Advocate have announced their intention to support him. There is also a call in circulation appointing the 17th of March as the time, and Elkhorn the place, where a Judicial Convention is to be held for the purpose of nominating a candidate.

The Elkhorn Independent is in favor of holding a convention.

TWO HUNDRED and seventy-five persons have been run over and killed while walking or lying upon the railroad tracks in Illinois during the last ten years. The largest number in one year was 38 (1862), and the smallest 22 (in 1861.) With these facts published from year to year, it is extraordinary that people will persist in the dangerous practice of using the railroad tracks instead of the highway.

ADVICES from Columbus, Ohio, represent recruiting to be very active. Companies are reporting faster than they can be mustered in. It is expected that Ohio will put more regiments into the field than were authorized by the Secretary of War.

GOV. VANCE, of N. C., has issued a war proclamation, in which he says "the struggle for freedom" shall never be given up, and that all the disasters the South is suffering are caused by the soldiers being absent without leave.

Loss of Life by the Terrible Cyclone in India.

Later advices reveal the full extent of the disaster inflicted by the terrible cyclone in India. A Calcutta letter to the London Times, just received, says:

I see that the news of 12,000 persons having been lost in the cyclone was received with incredulity in England. The estimate was wide of the truth, but only because it vastly underrated the calamity. As every one who knows this country will readily conceive, there is no possibility of ascertaining precisely the loss of life, because hundreds might be swept away and leave no trace behind.

But we are not without data for arriving at a conclusion, and it has now been calculated that there cannot be fewer than 90,000 persons drowned or otherwise killed by that fearful storm. In the Island of Saugor alone, before the cyclone, there were 8,200 persons. There are now about 1,200—nor have any left to go elsewhere. Seven thousand were carried away by the storm wave.

All up the river the population has been swept off, if not in the same proportion, yet in very large numbers. As we all anticipated, disease is raging everywhere—cholera, fever and small pox. The epidemic fever, which I have mentioned in previous letters, this year is depopulating whole districts. A magistrate told me the other day that he had been riding through a village in which there is hardly a grown up person left. They had died without hope of assistance, without medicine, without food, for the crops are rotting on the ground in many parts, where the salt water rushed in. The Bengalese are in a deplorable plight, and the Zemindars increase the general misery by turning the Ryetts out of their huts because they are behindhand with their rents. There is money enough here to give relief—such relief as can be got for money.

But human means seem quite powerless to stop the awful diseases that are walking thro' the land carrying thousands before them. The native feels himself ill, wraps himself in his blanket, says it is fate, and so perishes. In this enormous population—let it be remembered that here in Bengal alone we have at least 45,000,000 of people—the few Europeans can only do good here and there, and yet it is solely by Europeans that good is being done. The rich native will not help his countrymen. God gave him his money, and God intended him to keep it. That is pretty much his mode of reasoning. Sometimes the fever strikes him, and then in abject terror he offers English doctors a fee of 500 rupees to come and visit him. In a recent case of that sort, the man—who was worth about four millions sterling—had refused to give a piece to the poor after the cyclone. When death was at his throat he altered his mind, and promised large benefactions if he recovered. He was not spared to add falsehood to his cruel service.

A Scene in Libby Prison.

[From A. D. Richardson's account of his imprisonment.]

I will give but one of the many incidents in our Libby experience. It was a hot summer day, and we were all depressed, when the news came that Grant had been terribly whipped and driven back in confusion from Vicksburg; and that a great battle had occurred at some obscure place in Pennsylvania, called Gettysburg, where Meade had received a Waterloo defeat, and Lee had captured forty thousand prisoners. The rebel papers indulged in a good many speculations as to where their authorities could guard these prisoners, and how they could feed them without starving the people of Richmond. That was a sad, silent night in Libby; and even the usual evening prayer-meeting was clouded with despondency and doubt.

There was one negro among the score or two in the prison, who had excited my curiosity, because, in conversation with me, he declared that he felt no interest in the national conflict; that it was a speculators' war on both sides, from which no good could ever result. He was the first African I had ever seen who professed to be indifferent on the subject. But the next day after we received this gloomy intelligence he came rushing up into our room and immediately began to dance a hornpipe, performing the most remarkable gymnastics. We all clustered around him, asking "What is the matter?"

"De Yankees have taken Vicksburg with forty thousand prisoners," he shouted as soon as he could gain breath. "Here is de news!" And he pulled from his pocket a newspaper extra, just from the press, which he had purloined from one of the rebel officers.

Then swiftly followed the glad tidings that we had also conquered at Gettysburg; that Lee, and not Meade, was in full retreat. How suddenly the very atmosphere seemed to change! There was singing and dancing, and somebody shouted "Glory, hallelujah!" Upon this hint, Rev. Dr. McCabe, of Ohio, in his clear, ringing tones, started Mrs. Howe's impressive hymn:

"For mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;"

and every voice in the room joined in the chorus. I never saw any body of men more stirred and thrilled than all were as they heard the closing stanza:

"In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me;
As he died to make men holy, let us die to make men free."

HOW NAPOLEON TREATED THOSE WHO CHEATED THE SOLDIERS.—Just before the battle of Wagram, Napoleon paid a visit of inspection to the camps, and passing by a party of soldiers at their dinner, said to them: "Gentlemen, I hope you enjoy your wine." "There is our cellar," said a rough old brave, pointing to the Danube. The Emperor was greatly astonished, inasmuch as he had just ordered 250,000 bottles of wine for the use of the army, and caused one of his Marshals to institute an inquiry. The result was the discovery that the Commissaries had appropriated the wine to their own use; whereupon they were immediately court martialed, and sentenced to be shot. Wouldn't the adoption of a similar course towards thieves in our own army be productive of good?

DAVID H. COLE is now teaching school in South Brighton, Mass., the seventy-eighth term. He has taught in two States, four counties, thirteen towns and thirty-one districts. He is the father of eleven children, ten of whom—five daughters and five sons—are now living. Three of his sons are now in the army. Of his twenty-nine grandchildren, twenty-three are living.

REBEL REPORTS FR'M TEXAS

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

Washington, Feb. 24.—To Major Gen. Dix:—The following official report of the capture of Wilmington has been forwarded to this Department by Gen. Grant:

E. M. STANTON, Sec'y of War.

Fortress Monroe, Feb. 24—10 p. m.—Gen. U. S. Grant, City Point:—Our troops entered Wilmington on the morning of the 22d. After the evacuation of Fort Anderson, Gen. Schofield directed Gen. Cox to follow its garrison towards Wilmington, while General Terry followed Hoke on the east side of the river. The latter took up a new line four miles from Wilmington, but was so hotly pursued by Terry that he could send no troops to the west side.

On that side the rebels made a stand behind Owl Creek, but on the 20th Gen. Cox crossed his troops below them on flatboats, attacked them in the rear, and routed them, taking two guns and 300 prisoners.

On the 21st inst., Gen. Cox pushed to Brumarck River, opposite Wilmington, where bridges were on fire. On his arrival the rebels began burning cotton and resin in the city, and left it that night. Our captures, including Ft. Anderson, amount to about 700 prisoners and 30 guns.

Citizens stated that the rebels burned 1,000 bales of cotton, and 15,000 barrels of resin.

The Union feeling showed itself quite strongly in the city.

Gen. Terry has followed Hoke northward.

C. B. COMSTOCK,
Lt.-Col., A. D. C., and Brevet Brig. Gen.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The following has just been received at the Navy Department:

Fortress Monroe, Feb. 24.—To the Hon. Gideon Welles.—The Cuyler has just arrived from Cape Fear, and reports our forces having taken possession of Wilmington on the morning of the 22d—Washington's birthday. The rebels retreated leaving a large number of prisoners in our hands.

STEPHEN D. TRENCHARD,
Commander.

Baltimore, Feb. 25.—Despatches from Fort Monroe, dated this morning, just received, says that the U. S. gunboat R. R. Cuyler has arrived from Fort Fisher with the news of the evacuation of Wilmington on the night of the 21st, Major Gen. Terry entered and took possession of the city at 9 a. m. of the 22d, capturing a large amount os stores of all kinds, which the rebels in their haste neglected to destroy.

FROM GRANT'S ARMY.

New York, Feb. 25.—The Herald's Army of the Potomac correspondent says unusual activity has been observed in the rebel lines around Richmond during the past few days, indicating designs of some new enterprise on the part of Lee, and it is surmised that, alarmed by the progress of Sherman's and the other national forces, he has concluded that the time for giving up both Richmond and Petersburg and falling back to Lynchburg or some other defensible position, has at last arrived. Gen. A. P. Hill's corps of his army is said to have been under orders on Thursday of this week, to be prepared to march at a moment's notice and considerable commotion within the rebel lines was displayed yesterday. There are also rumors that Lee meditates an attack on Grant. All these matters taken in connection with the fact that the rebel journals have received orders from the authorities to be particularly reticent regarding military affairs, gives color to the belief that something more than ordinary is in proccess of execution within their lines. The influx of rebel deserters, however, remains uninterrupted.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Washington's birthday was celebrated with great spirit throughout the Potomac and James' armies. As a part of the festivities, the rebels in front of Petersburg were treated to a vigorous shelling early in the morning.

The exchange of prisoners is still being pushed forward rapidly and uninterruptedly on James river.

New York, Feb. 25.—The Herald's Washington special says a dispatch received here to-night from Gen. Grant's headquarters states that extraordinary activity is displayed along the rebel lines near Petersburg to-day. Extensive changes of location of divisions have been made and in some parts of the line the pickets have been doubled and other indications of some important movements are given. It is the opinion of veteran officers at the front that they are about to evacuate Petersburg and fall back across the Appomattox.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The force from Sheridan's army sent in pursuit of the rebel cavalry, who, last Tuesday, dashed into Cumberland, Maryland, and captured Union Generals Crook and Kelly, returned to Winchester Thursday evening, having been unsuccessful in rescuing those officers.

FROM THE SOUTH.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The Richmond Sentinel of the 22d has the following: Our readers will cheerfully forego being apprised of pending military movements in the Carolinas, when they are informed that our reticence is in compliance with wishes which have been communicated to all newspapers.

The enemy commenced a furious shelling in front of Petersburg on Monday, caused by the appearance of a Confederate working party. Some of the shells exploded in the city of Petersburg, and a number fell in Blandford. Grant is extending the railroad to his new lines.

The Express says that the enemy is throwing up works on the Brunswick stage road between Reams' station and Monks creek bridge, two miles below the latter place.

A gentleman, now a resident of this city, formerly of Kentucky, proposes to put all his able bodied slaves at the disposal of Gen. Lee. He thus gives unmistakable evidences of his patriotism, not only so but he intends to comfortably equip each man and furnish him liberally with money to secure comforts in camp. Here is an example worthy of imitation—who will follow.

Among the lately returned prisoners were five negroes who resisted all solicitations to join the enemy or take the oath.

The Charleston Courier of the 16th, says nothing of importance has occurred since the last report. The force at Bull's Bay at last accounts had not yet landed, and it was said, had mostly disappeared.

The following is from the Richmond Examiner:

In the absence of official information, we obtain from other reports less reliable, the following of the military situation in South Carolina: We have confirmation of the report of an expedition of the enemy from Knoxville in the direction of Greenville, but there are various surmises as to its result. A letter from Wythville dated the 15th says: The enemy 4,500 strong, under Gillem, are reported to be advancing through upper East Tennessee. Their outposts were taken prisoners and brought in by our scouts who state that it is the intention of the enemy to occupy the whole State if possible. Same writer adds Gilmore's brigade of Kentucky cavalry had an engagement last Saturday at Ball's Bridge, Lee county, Va., 27 miles north of Cumberland Gap, resulting in a splendid victory to our arms. Our loss is not over 60 killed and wounded.

New York, Feb. 25.—The bill to arm the negroes which the rebel House of Representatives passed on the 20th inst., was indefinitely postponed by the Senate on the following day.

Rebel journals give some Texas items of interest including accounts of the defeat of a rebel force on the South Concha river in that State in January, by the Indians. The fight is said to have been a most desperate one. The Indians are giving the rebels there much trouble. The Austin Gazette is suspicious that these operations are forerunners of a grand advance of the Union troops on Northern Texas in the spring, by way of Red river.

The works found at Galveston are being improved and enlarged.

It was said that the Mexican town of Matamoras has ceased to be a free port.

A Union force reported by the rebel papers as having gone from Knoxville, Tennessee, towards North Carolina, is now said by them to consist of between 4,000 and 5,000 men under Gen. Gillem.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Gold has stood steady at about 2.00, our military success apparently not having any effect upon the price. The fall of Wilmington announced to-day had no appreciable effect. The time appears to have gone by, when victories will effect this market.

New York, Feb. 25.—As the rebel papers have received an official notification to suppress military news, we are without any later intelligence regarding Gen. Sherman's progress in South Carolina. The Richmond papers cannot conceal their mortification over the capture of Charleston and Columbia, the occupation of the latter by Gen. Sherman they acknowledge to have been very unexpected at Richmond, and serious apprehensions are expressed in reference to the ability of Beauregard to make any effective opposition to the northward advance of the National forces.

New York, Feb. 24.—John G. Benil, the pirate, was executed to-day on Governor Island.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—The sales of 7 30's to day by Jay Cooke, was 3,168,450. The largest single subscription was 325,000 from Philadelphia.

FROM WASHINGTON.

New York, Feb. 24.—The Commercial's special says military men regard the capture of Wilmington as a first class military triumph. It insures the success of the plans against Richmond. Sherman has now a new base and can move forward without waiting or turning back for supplies.

The Senate Finance Committee will restore the drawback on petroleum, and reduce the tax to two cents per. gallon.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The Times' special say Brigadier General Hays arrived in Washington from Richmond, on parole, and will soon be exchanged.

The World's special says Mr. McCulloch's name has been sent to the Senate for Secretary of the Treasury, and Freeman Clarke, Member of Congress from Rochester, will be comptroller of the currency.

THE WAR IN TENNESSEE.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—The Bulletins special Cincinnati dispatch says advices from below indicate grand preparations for a three fold movement to Alabama and Mississippi. Thomas from the north with a strong force of infantry from Vicksburg via Jackson, and Canby from Pensacola. It is apprehended that if Lee is compelled to relinquish Richmond he will fall back on Lynchburg and there make his way through the mountains to East Tennessee and Kentucky. Efforts are making to repair the Virginia and Tennessee railroad to Bristol. It was rumored in Knoxville last week that a division of Lee's army has already appeared in East Tennessee. The expedition now moving from Knoxville is to defeat this movement and by again destroying the railroad render the transfer of Lee's army west of the mountains impossible.

FROM THE GULF.

New York, Feb. 24.—The Herald's New Orleans correspondent says on the night of the 6th two boats crews from the United States steamers Princess Royal and Rienzi under acting ensign Gee, H. French, boarded, captured, and ran to the blockading fleet from under the guns of the rebel forts in Galveston harbor, the blockade running schooners Let and Minnie Sophie laden with about 250 bales of cotton each.

On the night of the 3d the somewhat noted blockade running steamer Will O' the Whisp while attempting to get into Galveston went ashore and was rendered useless by the guns of the blockaders.

The steamer Fren attempted to run the blockade outward on the night of the 6th but was driven back by the union guns.

FROM CAIRO AND BELOW.

CAIRO, Feb. 24.—A scouring party under Capt. Newell, of the 8th New Hampshire, which left Vidalia in the early part of this month to patrol along Black river, returned in a terrible state of dilapidation, having subsisted on horse and mule meat alone, in swamps.

Brig. Gen. Meredith has been relieved of the command of West Kentucky. His successor is not announced.

Col. McArthur, late commander of the Post at Columbus, Kentucky, and Capt. Moss, Provost Marshal, arrested by Gen Meredith, have been relieved, fully exhonorated, and returned to Columbus.

The trial of Gen. Payne is progressing. Thus far, not a single charge against him has been sustained.

FROM MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Feb. 24.—The execution of W. J. Harris, which was ordered to take place to-day, was postponed by an order issued by Col. Baker Provost Marshal General. The gallows had been placed in good hanging trim, the rope was prepared and an invitation extended to the members of the press by Lt. Colonel Heindricks for admission into Gratiot street prison yard at 10 a. m. At a quarter to ten the order postponing the execution was issued. Harris is a citizen of Audrain county, and was convicted of being a guerrilla and robber.

Gen. Pope returned to the city last night.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, Feb. 6.—It is not a little gratifying to those who like to see fair play to know that the draft is not likely to skip the crowds who have come here from various quarters for the express purpose of escaping it. Gen. Hurlbut has determined that these persons shall not thus elude the obligations of citizenship, and his order requiring all to report for enrollment is being rapidly enforced.

FROM DETROIT.

DETROIT, Feb. 24.—The Board of Trade celebration here last evening, was a great success. Nearly all the principal cities in the north were represented. Addresses were delivered by Right Rev. Bishop McClarkey and the representatives of the delegations present, including Chicago, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Buffalo, Albany, Toronto and London.

SOMEWHERE in the outskirts of Hartford there is a Mission School that has the reputation of being rather noisy. Last Sunday, the school being destitute of a superintendent, a prominent manufacturer, of the city, volunteered for the day. Having called the school to order and got most of them seated, "Boys," said he, mounting the platform, "let's see if we can't have it still," and he put himself in a quiet posture for the boys to imitate. "Is there was yet some noise— B— said he we can have it stiller I know," and walking to the front of the stage, and raising his hand, "now let's see if we can't hear a pin drop." All was silence when a little fellow in the back part of the room, cocking his ear and placing himself in an attitude of breathless attention, spoke out "Let her drop!" The features of the superintendent are said to have slightly relaxed.

by a new method, and with remedies that are eminently successful in the above class of chronic diseases. The thinking and unbiased portion of the community all appreciate the great advantage of a permanent and reliable Institute for the cure of chronic diseases that baffle the skill of the ordinary practitioner.

The Northwest, although a young country, is becoming the home of many invalids, and consequently a good field for the introduction of new remedies. In this has never existed a case of this disease he could not cure. The present is a most favorable time for applying proper remedies, as it is the last dangerous. Your case may be cured this month, next, or the month after, but not to-morrow.

All who are suffering from any of the diseases of which make a specialty in treating, should at least call and investigate the new system for themselves. A person of good sense and sound judgment will, without call and careful investigation, denounce as "humbug" that which claims to possess merit.

Dr. Hale takes pleasure in referring to the following, responsible parties, citizens of Janesville, who can speak knowingly as to the efficacy of Dr. Hale's treatment, not to mention hundreds of others in the Northwest that have been cured:

M. Schuyler, proprietor of the Schuyler House, Dr. Levi Davis, N. G. Remston, D. R. Stout, F. J. Tupper Ellis Doty, Job painter, J. D. Heyner, W. H. Munn, S. S. Beckley, N. Rowe, John Kerr, J. F. Drake, Wm. Lyzer, Mrs. W. W. Wheeler, Mrs. C. J. Cheney, Miss Lollie Shuttuck, Miss N. Wiley.

The list could be extended to an indefinite length, but the above will suffice.

Consultations free. A friendly chat will cost you nothing.

The Constitutional Amendment---The Debate in the Assembly.

Editorial Correspondence.

MADISON, Feb. 24, 1865.

Knowing that the Constitutional Amendment, abolishing slavery throughout the territory of the United States, had been made the special order for yesterday at eleven o'clock, and feeling that the day must become historic in the annals of Wisconsin, I came out here to listen to the discussion upon that interesting and momentous subject. There was considerable anxiety manifested on the part of certain hard shell democrats, commonly called copperheads, as to the reported action of some of their political associates. It was more than hinted that Messrs. Hadley, Abrams, Williams, Thompson, Bonniwell and others, would cave in and vote for the passage of the Amendment with the Republicans, and it was amusing to see the old stagers of the party going about the Assembly Chamber laboring assiduously to dissuade their straying brethren from such inconsistancy. But it was labor lost as these gentlemen are among the most intelligent and independent members of their party upon the floor of the House. I know nothing of the arguments, or importunities, or threats that were made use of to induce these gentlemen to record themselves upon the roll of infamy, but any one can easily imagine what they were. Their love for the dead carcass of slavery exceeded their admiration for the arisen and glorified body of Liberty, from the door of whose sepulcher the stone has just been rolled away forever!

After the morning hour had elapsed, the Speaker announced the special order to be the question of ratifying the constitutional amendment of the United States forever prohibiting slavery in all the States and territories. There was a pause of some moments; the low hum of subdued conversation ceased, and all was expectation and anxiety. At length Mr. Horton of La Crosse, opened the discussion in favor of the ratification of the amendment. He spoke briefly and well as did Reed of Door, and the venerable Starks of Sauk, who followed Horton upon the same side. Then came the shrill, sharp cry of "Mr. Speaker," from the remote part of the chamber, down the main aisle, and all turned to catch a glimpse of Jackson Hadley whose head has grown white in the service of the democratic party. He has a concise, well-written, logical speech of half an hour in favor of the amendment! and he a representative of a city that gave the largest majority for McClellan of any city in the Union according to its population! Will wonders ever cease? The red face of the reporter of the Milwaukee News grows redder yet, and the "irrepressible" and irascible Jones, the correspondent of the Chicago Times, nervously twitches at his mustach as if he intended to pull that carrot-colored appendage all out by the roots. The Union members looked pleased, and as Hadley proceeds with his argument they indulge in the unparliamentary habit of cheering the good points of the speech by industriously clapping their hands, in which Mr Speaker Field himself occasionally joins.

After Hadley follows Tilton, of Walworth, a Methodist Clergyman of good abilities, who goes on to make an hour's speech affirmatively from a theological stand point. Slavery, he said, was a giant crime against God and man and ought to be abolished. This proposition he enforced in an ingenious and philosophical manner. It was one of the best speeches made.

In the afternoon Mr. Fulton, (Union) of St. Croix, made a keen speech in which he thrust his glittering cimetar into the copperhead fraternity, drawing blood every time. Next follows Ross, of Madison, a war democrat, in a neat and pertinent speech also in favor of the ratification. So far all on one side. Is there to be no opposition, asks everybody? Is the copperhead faction to die and make no sign? Ah, yes, here arises Dr. Pease, of Marquette, Editor of the Express, a supporter of Lincoln in 1860, but who was converted to the peace doctrines of Horatio Seymour. He was opposed to ratifying the Amendment and went at his work with the ardor of a young convert. He was cheered occasionally by a little knot of sympathisers, as boys whistle to keep up their courage while passing a graveyard. His argument was this: Congress had no right to pass such an amendment; slavery must be abolished by the States in which it exists, if at all, and it is of no use to pass upon this question because the measure will be finally defeated for want of a three-fourths vote. His speech was exactly adapted to the meridian of Richmond and ought to have been delivered there.

George C. Williams, of Washington county, next obtained the floor. His district is so nearly unanimously democratic that no Union man was run against him at the last election. He fought at the battle of Pittsburg Landing, and has had his wits sharpened by the whiz of rebel bullets. He followed Pease in one of the best speeches made upon the occasion, and in a few brief sentences sent the rickety cob house of an argument that the Doctor had reared, rattling about his ears. His speech was highly complimented by all who heard it.

After Mr. Ross had taken a lively and somewhat humorous clatter at the "gentleman from Marquette," (Dr. Pease) in which he repeatedly brought down the house as he exposed that gentleman's political inconsistencies, the House took a recess until after tea, when the debate was again opened by Mr. Jared Thompson, (Dem.) of Milwaukee, who also spoke in the affirmative.

But the main speech of the occasion was delivered by Mr. Cassoday in favor of the amendment. It was listened to attentively throughout and warmly applauded. Everybody agrees that he lead the column.

Speeches were made by Winsor and others who consumed the time up to ten o'clock when the House adjourned.

This morning Mr. Jones set in on a two hours speech against the amendment, and had bored the House with a very small gimblet for about an hour when he gave way while Chief Clerk Dean read the official dispatch from the Secretary of War, announcing the fall of Wilmington. The applause that followed this gratifying intelligence shook the Capitol from turret to foundation stone: It happened most inopportunely for little Jones. He had just been saying, and called God to witness, that he did not believe the Republican Union party was carrying on this war for the purpose of restoring the Union. The reading of the dispatch at this juncture made his gasconade look so absurd and foolish to every body that I think it must have knocked him out of about an hour's talk, much to the gratification of the members.

The vote will probably be taken this afternoon, but I must close this hasty sketch in order to get it in the mail. I have just been shown by a prominent democrat, the list of his party who have agreed to vote for it---nine in number, including the most intelligent of the party upon this floor.

GUBERNATORIAL.

I am informed by a gentleman who knows, that Governor Lewis peremptorily declines to be a candidate for re election. Under such circumstances there is naturally some talk as to who shall be his successor. General Fairchild is talked of, as is Mr. Speaker Field and Hon. John F. Potter, and one or two others. I hope the matter may be allowed to rest until the proper time arrives and then give the people a chance to have their say on the subject. The members of the present Legislature have succeeded in foisting a candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court upon the people, which ought to satisfy them without attempting to make a Governor.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Railroad affairs, as far as the disposition of the land grant is concerned, is in a somewhat mixed condition, although from what little I have been able to learn, the Northwestern Railroad, the Madison interest and the Portage City people have united to make Portage the initial point. Fond du Lac and Milwaukee are busily at work to frustrate these designs, but they must play their cards with some adroitness in order to succeed. A. M. T.

The Planet We Live On.

The "farm of the Earth," inclosed in a ringfence of air, turns out to be a much more valuable piece of real estate than our progenitors supposed it to be. Nay, even our papas had no idea twenty years ago that we, their sons, were born to such a goodly inheritance. We don't know what was the estimated value of the globe sixteen or seventeen years ago, but it has certainly appreciated several hundred per cent. within that time. California began to feast our eyes with its riches in 1849, and Australia soon followed suit with its golden dowry. From that time until now Madame Terra has been indeed a Lady Bountiful, and what further she may have in store for her enterprising family it is vain to attempt to guess. We have nothing to guide us in our surmises save the "lamp of experience," and that for several years past has been such an out and out lamp of Aladdin that, if we are to judge of the future by the past, the next generation will enjoy all the luxury and magnificence attributed by Eenelous to the fabulous land of Cocaigne.

We must give up calling wealthy people the "upper crust;" it is the lower crust fellows that are making fortunes. Our respected ancestors merely cultivated the surfaces of the earth; we gather our golden harvests from the interior. The mole must henceforth be our "totem." The road to riches is a "bore." Instead of putting our shoulders to the wheel we rely upon the "shafts." Facilis descensus averni must be expunged from our proverbial philosophy, and we must say instead "it is easy descending into wealth." Poor men in Pennsylvania make deep holes in the earth, and, like the genie of an Eastern story, surrounded by a cloud of inflammable vapor, up comes an oleaginous Plutus through every orifice. It is very nice. Would that our lot had been cast in greasy Carbondale or kerosenic Scrabton.

We have exported twenty-three millions of gallons of petroleum to Europe within a year. "Think of that, Master Brook!" Verily we are a burning and a shining light among the nations. Widows of the world, bring hither your cruses; we can fill them. Virgins who wish to keep your lamps trimmed and ignited, we can supply you with the necessary combustible. The dark ages can never more return; oil is too plentiful for that. Leviathan hide thy diminished head; its contents are of small consequence. The earth takes the shine out of the sea, and "parmaceti" is no longer the "sovereign'st thing in the world." Weep, Nantucket, and lay up thy ships in ordinary. Turn thy harpoons into picks and augurs, and proceed to perforate. Perchance under those barren rocks of thine lies more 'ile' than there is in the whales of the sea. Let your shibboleth be "There she spouts!" but let it be spoken of the greasy earth, not of the monsters of the deep.

The latest news is that "signs" of petroleum have been discovered at Hoboken and all along the Highlands to Piermont. "Prodigious!" We think of "sinking a well" in our "sub-cellar." It smells very strong of carburetted hydrogen. It may proceed from a leak in the gas-pipe, but then again it may not.

Seriously speaking, this sudden access of material wealth comes in the very nick of time, if we may use the word Nick in connection with such a godsend.

It is all nonsense to call this planet the solid earth; it is simply an immense hollow sphere filled with oil, worth---unmanufactured, fifty cents a gallon. In the old world they can't get it, however, the crust of the earth being thickest on that side. We are all made men---not a doubt of it. Let us keep "pegging away" at the deposit. Let us dig and enjoy our otium cum dignitatis.---N. Y. Sunday Times.

GENERAL Alexander Schemmelfinning is the officer who first entered Charleston The name is against the hero. People will find it difficult to repeat it very often. But he is said to be an excellent officer, a Prussian by birth and education---a thorough military man, who entered the United States service as Colonel of a Pennsylvania regiment at the breaking out of the war, and was commissioned as a Brigadier General in 1862, for gallantry. He commands a brigade in what is now known as Foster's army, which has been operating below Charleston for some months past.

MR. CORRIN, correspondent of the Boston Journal, gives an account of a remarkable meeting of freedmen, held at Savannah on the 2d inst. It was called by Gen. Saxton to explain to them Gen. Sherman's late order giving them the abandoned plantations. The large Second African Church was crowded to overflowing. After preliminary religious exercises, Gen. Saxton told his hearers that they were free, and that the President had been the instrument of this great change in their condition. The allusion to Mr. Lincoln produced a sensation. There were cries, "God bless him." "You are all free." "Amen," they said; "bless the Lord." He explained the cause of the war---how the rebels fired upon the flag---how they hated freedom, and wanted to extend slavery, which produced the war, and which, in the providence of God, had made them free. They were free, but they must labor to live. Their relations to their masters had all been changed. They could go where they pleased, do what they pleased, provided they did right; but they had no claim on their masters; they must work for themselves. Gen. Sherman's order was read and explained. Rev. Mr. French of Port Royal was the next speaker. The young men were exhorted to enlist and the old men to work. [Cries of "Yes, sir, dat is what we will do; we'se gwine."] The negroes were next told that they must have one wife, instead of two or three, as they had done, at which the audience burst out into roars of laughter. On being admonished to treat their former masters with kindness and respect, a colored man, unable longer to restrain his admiration for General Saxton, went forward, clasped the General's hand, kneeled down and said: "God bless you master General Saxton," creating quite a commotion in the audience. The meeting closed with the singing of "Old Hundred" by the vast assembly.

The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretence of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. This Company was organized in 1850 and is one of the most popular and successful Life Insurance Companies in the United States.

It was the aim of the Corporators to fill a want in the community by organizing an Institution which should embody the stability of a purely stock Company with the advantages of a Mutual system, declaring all profits to the Insured.

DIVIDENDS GUARANTEED.

And paid to the assured annually, thus greatly reducing the amount of premiums.

The amount of Dividend returned to the assured each year, determines the rate of premium per annum.

A Bona Fide Security of $170 for every $100 of Liabilities.

ENDOWMENT PLAN.

This is a non-forfeiting plan, whereby the advantages of Life Insurance are combined with those of a savings' bank. By this mode a policy is made payable to the assured on his attaining a given age, or should he die previous to that age, to his representatives at his decease---thus making provision for old age, and at the same time securing, beyond contingency, the full amount of its value to one's family, in the event of early death.

This plan of insurance is becoming deservedly popular, and has received the unqualified approval of our best business men and financiers.

NON-FORFEITURE PLAN.

Premiums all paid in ten annual payments, securing a proportionate amount of the whole sum in a paid up policy, should circumstances make it necessary to discontinue further payments of premium at any time

Policies issued in all the various forms, and to apply to all the diversified relations of life.

A large amount of former premiums now invested in first class bonds and mortgages in Wisconsin.

All future premiums received in Wisconsin will be reloaned here.

Persons unacquainted with the Melodeon and its history, will bear in mind that we are the pioneers and leading manufacturers, not only in the United States, but in the world. We commenced the manufacture of Melodeons in the fall of the year 1847, and since that time have finished and sold

THIRTY THOUSAND!

Those Instruments are now in use mostly in the United States and Canada, also in Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, and the West Indies, and from all these quarters we have the most flattering testimonials of the high estimation in which they are held. At all Industrial Exhibitions, they have invariably been whenever exhibiting in competition with others. We shall take pleasure in forwarding by mail (at our own expense) our Illustrated Catalogue, in which every instrument we manufacture, is fully described and illustrated by elegant engravings.

☞ All Melodeons of our manufacture, either sold by us or dealers in any part of the United States or Canada, are warranted to be perfect in every respect, and should any repairs be necessary before the expiration of five years from the date of sale, we hold ourselves ready and willing to make the same free of charge, provided the injury is not caused by accident or design.

CAUTION.

We daily see advertisements of some new reed instrument, with strange name, purporting to be superior to Melodeons and School Organs. A new exterior and a new name will naturally attract attention; but the public will bear in mind that all Reed Instruments, now manufactured in the United States and Canada, are, as near as they can be made without infringing our patents, copies of our own.

☞ Agents for the sale of our Melodeons can be found in all the principal towns of the United States and Canada. Address either

JANESVILLE DAILY GAZETTE.

CIVIL WORTH OF THE SABBATH.—1. Toil needs it—to wipe off the grim and sweat of labor; to refresh by change of apparel; to restore and invigorate the body, exhausted by labor; to enliven the mind by change of the current of thought, and by all this to fit laboring men for the renewed toils of the week.

2. Capital needs the Sabbath—to alleviate, by intermission, the care of accumulation; to ease the unbending of the strained and exhausted mind; to give a sense to the value of nobler objects than silver and gold; to keep men's humanity and conscientiousness alive; to shield capital from harm, by securing the power and triumph of law and order in society.

3. The State needs the Sabbath—to illumine the public conscience, that guardian of public safety; to cause men so to recognize the Eternal Lawgiver, as to honor the earthly "powers that be;" to secure the moral atmosphere in a community, which is the only sure support of law.

4. The Republic needs the Sabbath, because in a Republic more depends than in any other form of government, upon the intelligence and virtue of the people for its support. The grand superstructure of human rights needs just such a foundation as the Sabbath furnishes by its moral and religious influences over men. Human freedom has no friend more powerful than the sanctified Sabbath.—Selected.

REV. GEO. THACHER, of Keokuk, Iowa, will preach at the Congregational Church to-morrow morning and evening.

RISE IN THE RIVER.—The recent heavy rains are having their effect on Rock river, making the water perceptibly higher. The ice is already pretty well cleared out.

WE were in error in stating that no one lived in the house of Mrs. John Baily, at the time it took fire on Wednesday evening. She informs us that she resided there herself, and the fire caught from a flue in the chimney.

CONCERT OF MR. BENNETT'S SINGING CLASS.—Preparations are going forward energetically for a grand concert by Mr. Bennett's singing class, to come off on Wednesday evening, March 8th. As the best musical talent of the city is to take part in the entertainment it will be an A No. 1 affair.

AT a meeting of the Finance Committee of the First Ward, held on Monday evening, it was on motion ordered,

That the Treasurer be directed to return to all subscribers to the Ward Fund, the excess of their subscriptions over twenty-five dollars.

In accordance with the above, I will pay to all persons whose subscriptions exceed twenty-five dollars, such excess at my store from 7 to 9 p. m., Saturday Feburary 25th, 1865. G. F. MOSELEY.
feb24d2d. Treasurer.

A GOOD EXHIBIT.—Mr. Ira Dexter, of Johnstown Center, furnishes us with the following statement of the products of two cows on his farm for the past year. One came in the first of April, the calf of which was fatted and sold for $4.50; the other the first of May, the calf of which was raised, but was fed milk. The family used what cream and milk they wanted, but the amount of butter made in 1864 was 533 pounds, which being sold at from 17c to 40c per pound produced the handsome sum of	$180.99

Fatted Calf	4.50
Milk for hogs	20.00
Total	$205.49

The cows come in about the same time this year, and in the month of January twenty-eight pounds of butter were made, and on the 1st day of February they gave sixteen pounds of milk. We know the butter is excellent, having tried it. If any one can produce a better showing in the same time we should be glad to publish it.

A CASE OF SUICIDE.—Yesterday about noon a girl apparently about seventeen years of age, called at the Rock County House in this city, near the depot, and said she wanted to take the train in the evening for Prairie du Chien. Towards evening she complained of being sick and grew so much worse that a physician was called, but about midnight she died. An inquest was held this morning which disclosed the fact that she died by poison administered by her own hand. It appeared that she had been in this city about six months, had been leading a life of sin, and in a fit of desperation procured arsenic of one of our druggists and took this opportunity to commit the rash act. She came from McGregor, Iowa, and gave her name yesterday as Ellsworth, but one of the witnesses testified that she went by the name of Frank Gunn. No clue could be obtained as to her relatives or former home, except that she stated she had a brother in Prairie du Chien.

The verdict of the jury of inquest was in accordance with the above facts.

AN INCIDENT WORTH THINKING OF.—The eminent gentleman and patriot—Edward Everett—whose life recently terminated so suddenly, has left a record so pure and shining that many of the little incidents of his life even, contain lessons that are worth pondering. We give one below which the instructors of youth will do well to remember, not forgetting that the power of example is more mighty than volumes of precept:

A gentleman lately told a lady that when Mr. Everett was sixteen years old he taught a district school in East Bridgewater, Mass. That he being a little boy went to school, and one day took with him a toy pistol. He playing with it, the master took it from him and he heard no more about it until the last day, when Mr. Everett said, Robert, (the boy's name) I took from you a little pistol and I cannot find it, but I have bought you a penknife which I hope will compensate you. This lesson of justice made so strange an impression on Robert's mind that it has served as a text for his manhood.

SECOND WARD MEETING.—Let it be borne in mind by the enrolled men of the Second Ward, that there will be a meeting at the Court Room this evening to hear the report of the various committees, and to transact other important business. As the draft commences on Monday it would be well for the attendance to be as large as possible as the quota is not full.

IN THE Kentucky Legislature, on Wednesday, the Senate rejected the resolution ratifying the constitutional amendment. The vote to ratify unconditionally was, yeas, 17; nays, 22. The vote to ratify on condition that slaves be paid for was, yeas, 9; nays, 24. On the naked question of ratification the vote stood, yeas, 12; nays, 21.

THE Legislature of West Virginia has adopted an amendment to the Constitution of that State, disfranchising all those who have voluntarily participated in the rebellion.

THE Richmond Whig says: Beauregard is Sherman's master in all the arts of strategy and tactics. He will retreat when proper and fight when proper.

A CASE is pending in the New York Supreme Court in which a child was left in pawn or pledge for the payment of the debt.

M. K. Stowe is the republican candidate for judge of Fond du Lac county.

THE losses in England in the tea trade this season, amount to $5,000,000.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE rivals the Milwaukee dailies in the enterprise and ability of its conduct.—Beaver Dam Citizen.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON CITY, Feb'y 6th, '65

Whereas, Complaints are made in some localities respecting the assignment of quotas and credits allowed for the pending call of troops to fill up the armies; now, in order to determine all controversies in respect thereto, and to avoid any delay in filling up armies, it is ordered, That the Attorney General, Brigadier General Richard Delafield and Colonel C. W. Foster, be and they are hereby constituted a board to examine into the proper quotas and credits of the respective States and Districts, under the call of December 19th 1864, with directions that if any errors be found therein to make such corrections as the law and facts may require, and report their determination to the Provost Marshal General. The determination of said board to be final and conclusive and the draft to be made in conformity therewith.

2d. The Provost Marshal General is ordered to make the draft in the respective districts as speedily as the same can be done after the 15th of this month.

[Signed] ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

have respectfully to report as follows:

The call for 300,000 men made by the President on the 19th of December, 1864, requires that that number shall be raised, but the law requires that the number of men previously furnished by different localities and the periods of their service shall be considered so as to equalize the draft. The number of men liable to military duty is to be determined by the enrollment list. The number of men which had been furnished by the various localities, and their periods of service were ascertained and previous accounts having been adjusted, the excesses where they existed were carried forward under the last draft. The amount of service furnished is determined by multiplying the number of men raised by the number of years which they enlisted. Having thus ascertained the number of men enrolled on the 31st day of December, 1864, the number of men furnished up to that date, the localities from which they come and the period of their service, it is proposed to distribute the call for 300,000 men among the several districts and parts of districts according to the number enrolled in each, and the number of men furnished, and the periods of service previously rendered by each. The rule by which this is accomplished is as follows:

Take the whole number of years of service furnished by the districts of the United States from the commencement of the rebellion to the 31st of December, 1864. From that sum deduct the whole number of men furnished from all the districts of the United States up to that date. The remainder will be the excess of years of service furnished by all the districts. Multiply the call of December 19th, 1864, by three, to have the number of years of service upon that call and to this add the excess as ascertained above. Then as the number of men enrolled from the whole United States up to the 31st of December, 1864, is to the period of service as above ascertained, so is the number of men enrolled in a given district, to the number of years service it is required to furnish including its pro rata share of the excess. From this sum deduct the actual excess the district furnished the remainder is the number of years of service which the district is required to furnish under the call of December 19th, 1864, which divided by three, gives the number of men required from the district. As this call is for 300,000 men that number cannot be reduced by men going in for a period longer than one year. Inequalities produced by men going in under this call for longer periods than one year, must be equalized on future calls. It will be perceived that though the aggregate of the excess furnished is added to the whole call, the excess of each district is afterwards subtracted from its quota. Thus the number of men called for is neither increased nor diminished, but equality produced, considering the number of men, and the periods of their service. Localities which have heretofore furnished a greater amount of service have in proportion to their enrollment a less amount to furnish under this and e converso. Men having heretofore enlisted for one, two and three years, it was necessary to take one of these periods as the basis of the calculation. As three years embraced both the other periods, it makes the calculation more simple to adopt that. The same result would be arrived at by adopting either one or two years as the basis but the process of calculation would be more complicated. Such we find to be the rule adopted by the Provost Marshal General. The rule is in conformity with the requirements of the laws of congress, and is just and equitable. We have carefully examined and proved the work done under this rule by the Provost Marshal General. The rule is in conformity with the requirements of the laws of congress and is just and equitable. We have carefully examined and proved the work done under this rule by the Provost Marshal General, and find that it has been done with fairness. We file in the Provost Marshal General's Office our calculations of the quota of each and every district endorsed by us as correct.

Attorney General of the United States,
RICHARD DELAFIELD,
Brigadier General and Chief Eng. U. S. A.,

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, February 8th, 1865.

His Excellency Governor Smith:

Complaint is made to me, by Vermont, that the assignment of her quota for the draft on the pending call is intrinsically unjust, and also in bad faith of the Government's promise to fairly allow credit for men previously furnished. To illustrate, a supposed case is stated, as follows:

Vermont and New Hampshire must between them, furnish 6,000 men on the pending call, and, being equals, each must furnish as many as the other in the long run. But the Government finds that, on former calls, Vermont furnished a surplus of 500 and New Hampshire a surplus of 1,500—these two surpluses making 2,000, are added to the 6,000, making 8,000 to be furnished by the two States, or 4,000 each, less by fair credits. Then subtract Vermont's surplus of 500 from her 4,000, leaves 3,500 as her quota on the pending call; and likewise subtract New Hampshire's surplus of 1,500 from her 4,000, leaves 2,500 as her quota on the pending call. These 3,500 and 2,500 make precisely the 6,000 which the supposed case requires from the two States; and it is just, equal, for Vermont to furnish 1,000 more now than New Hampshire, because, New Hampshire has heretofore furnished a 1,000 more than Vermont, which equalizes the burthens of the two in the long run. And this result, so far from being bad faith to Vermont, is indispensable to keeping good faith with New Hampshire. By no other result can the 6,000 men be obtained from the two States, and, at the same time, deal justly and keep faith with both; and we do but confuse ourselves in questioning the process by which the right result was reached.

The supposed case is perfect, as an illustration. The pending call is not for 300,000 men subject to fair credits, but is for 300,000 remaining after all fair credits have been deducted; and it is impossible to concede what Vermont asks without coming out short of the 300,000 men, or making other localities pay for the partiality shown her. Yours truly

[Signed] A. LINCOLN.

ON ALL sides we hear the merits of the Grover & Bakers Sewing-Machine extolled. The ladies declare it the "very best," and prove it to us in so many undeniable facts that we are bound to confess our conviction of the truth of the declaration. What other machine will embroider so beautifully, braid so elegantly, hem so faultlessly, quilt so evenly, stitch so accurately, gather so regularly, operate so easily? None, we conscientiously affirm.

GOTTSCHALK ON KNABE.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmoniously mellow, (chrystaline,) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers.

CATARRH CURED!

They are treating Catarrh on a new system which is a

SURE CURE FOR THIS DISEASE!

Experience has proved that Catarrh cannot be cured by local treatment alone; hence, the many, advertised cures for Catarrh, all of which are local remedies, give relief only while the patient is using them, but, never cure.

Understanding the disease and we know it cannot be cured by LOCAL treatment alone, therefore, we also prescribe a constitutional remedy to be taken, and by the combined local and constitutional treatment, we are enabled to remove the causes of Catarrh, and thereby effect

A PERMANENT CURE.

THEIR CONSULTATIONS for years have averaged from five to seven thousand a year, which gives them an experience unsurpassed by any, and equalled only by a few.

☞ Remember they do not promise to cure all stages of Disease. While all diseases are curable, if taken in season, all stages are not. Your case may be curable this week, not next—to-day, not to-morrow; hence the danger of delay.

No case will be received, when there are any doubts of Cure or Relief.

Our Terms are CASH; hence the money must be sent with all orders for medicines. It costs from five to fifteen dollars per month, to doctor with us, which includes medicines.

☞ The poor will be favored.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Patients must write their name, State, post office address, plainly. All letters requiring an answer, must contain a letter stamp, and be addressed to DR. KNAPP & SON, Drawer 6483 Chicago, Ill.

☞ Any of the above diseases can be treated successfully by the patients' describing their case in a letter, when they cannot see us.
